Grizzly Bear Studies: The Grizzly Bear Study project was closed in the Park on October 31. Dr. John Craighead returned to his headquarters at the University of Montana, Missoula.

Civil Defense: The Civil Defense Committee's working Task Force met October 25 and 30th to review the community's preparedness for emergency operations. Present Task Force Chairman is Assistant Superintendent Richard A. Nelson. Chairman, Emergency Operations Committee, is Chief Ranger Oscar T. Dick.

West Yellowstone Sub-District Ranger Joseph H. Fraser attended Interagency Civil Defense meetings in West Yellowstone October 27 and 29.

Research and Observation (Cont'd.)

Park Historian Haines was in Helena on research at the Montana State Historical Society Library obtaining data on the period immediately before and during the time of the Washburn-Langford-Doane Expedition (1869-1871) in order to build up biographical and documentary materials.

Two collecting permits were issued, both for collecting of water and mud from various thermal water areas for research on thermophilic bacteria; one to William G. Walter and one to James Brierley, both of Montana State College, Bozeman, Montana.

Protection: The Northeast Entrance Station ceased operation on the 15th. All other entrance stations maintained an 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. operation until the 15th. All entrance stations were unattended after October 27.

The last boat was removed from Yellowstone Lake on October 30.

Rations were taken to winter patrol cabins during the month.

Poachers shot four elk in Elk Park which necessitated night patrols on the west side of the Park.

Boundary patrols on horseback were conducted along the south and east boundaries.

Law Enforcement: Eight persons were charged with nine offenses before U. S. Commissioner Brown during the month. Fines totaled $52.

Two male juveniles from Salt Lake City were apprehended by Park Rangers on October 31 soon after abandoning a stolen car. Investigation revealed four auto thefts committed in Utah and Idaho by the same youths.

Grizzly Bear Studies: The Grizzly Bear Study project was closed in the Park on October 31. Dr. John Craighead returned to his headquarters at the University of Montana, Missoula.

Civil Defense: The Civil Defense Committee's Working Task Force met October 25 and 30th to review the community's preparedness for emergency operations. Present Task Force Chairman is Assistant Superintendent Richard A. Nelson. Chairman, Emergency Operations Committee, is Chief Ranger Oscar T. Dick.

West Yellowstone Sub-District Ranger Joseph H. Fraser attended Interagency Civil Defense meetings in West Yellowstone October 27 and 29.

Forest Fire Protection: On October 22 a three-acre grass fire occurred near the Lamar Ranger Station, apparently started from a cigarette.

On October 27, a suppression party went to a fire out of the Park in the Bacon Rind Creek drainage, apparently started by a hunter.

Fire Control Technician, Hans Trankle, traveled to Missoula on October 1-3 to return smokejumper equipment to the U. S. Forest Service Smokejumper Unit.

Insects and Tree Diseases: On October 5 Assistant Superintendent Nelson and Forester Myers were in Jackson, Wyoming, to discuss forest insect control concerning the four federal areas: Shoshone National Forest, Teton National Forest, Grand Teton National Park and Yellowstone National Park. The new thinking for control of insect infestations as it affects these agencies is to let the infestation run its course in the mature stands in unseen areas but continue programming control measures in the high use areas. If more than one area is threatened, a coordinated control program with all control activities channeled along the same line will be worked out.

Forestry Aid John N. Reeves and Regional Forester John C. Gynn attended a field seminar in Coeur d'Alene National Forest October 14-20 with U.S. Forest Service officials to discuss anti-biotic applications, treatment, equipment and effects on experimental test plots. Ribes eradication methods were studied and work areas were inspected.

Forestry Aid Reeves and Regional Forester Gynn met with U. S. Forest Service officials in Missoula, October 15-19 to complete the 1962 Blister Rust Control field work summaries for Yellowstone.

Campgrounds: Installation of tables, fireplaces and garbage can holders at Grant Village campground have been completed.

A total of 446 signs were placed in the Grant Village area.

Placing of snow stakes and snow fence on all roads in the Park has been completed.

Sanitation: Sanitarian Willett made two food service inspections of the Old Faithful Inn before it closed for the season.

Wildlife and Fish Cultural Activities:
Elk: The public controversy over the Service's program for management of the northern Yellowstone elk herd lingers on, and increased interest was noted this month.

Forest Fire Protection: On October 22 a three-acre grass fire occurred near the Lower Ranger Station, apparently started from a cigarette.

On October 27, a suppression party went to a fire out of the Park in the Bacon Rind Creek drainage, apparently started by a hunter.
